Feeling is Increasingly Bitter.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 15.—The Triple Alliance at four o'clock this afternoon cancelled its order for a general strike set for ten o'clock tonight. The announcement of the cancellation was made by J. H. Thomas, the railmen's executive.

Though the general strike is off, a bitter struggle between the miners on the one hand and the mine owners and the government on the other is looked for.

HUGE CROWD AT REILLY'S FUNERAL

Wilbur Man Who Was Killed On Hindenburg Line Had Host of Friends—Had Fine Military Record—Former Comrades Take Part in Services.

One of the largest military funerals ever held in Kingston took place at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lawrence V. Conlin at 26 Wilbur avenue when the funeral of first class Private James J. Reilly was held and at 10 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Name in Wilbur. A solemn high Mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of his soul, the celebrant of the Mass being the Rev. James Pendergast, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Beacon, N. Y., and former pastor of the Church of the Holy Name and a close friend of the deceased, who had endeared himself to Father Pendergast by his Christian and upright life and zealous work for parish affairs. The Rev. Cornelius Norris of St. Mary's was deacon and the Rev. Charles J. McCabe of St. Joseph's was sub-deacon, while seated within the chancel was the Rev. Thomas Corbett, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name.

The church edifice was completely filled with sorrowing relatives and friends who had gathered to pay their last respects to their hero who had made the supreme sacrifice upon the altar of his country. Fighting for his country, that his friends and fellow men might enjoy liberty and freedom, he had gone bravely into battle and after a terrific struggle on September 29, 1918, at the Hindenburg line where he had gone in advance of his company with a bomb thrower squad. He was carried from the field of battle after having received a bullet wound in the head which caused his instant death. His comrades said, "None was more brave than Jim. He always had a smile on his lips and a smile on his face which gave us cheer even in the darkest hour of battle."

Private Reilly was a former member of old Company M, having enlisted with that company on June 17, 1917, and was later transferred to Company B, 27th Division, 107th Infantry at Spangdahlem, S. C., to which outfit he belonged at the time of his death.

The members of Company M, Veterans' Association formed a guard of honor in the funeral cortege and at the church service as did also the members of Gwalalshill Hose Company No. 5, of which the deceased was a member and also the school children of School No. 1, in charge of Principal John J. Flannery and Rose E. Donohue.

Born in Kingston 27 years ago, the deceased was the son of Mary Glendon and Thomas O'Reilly. Prior to his entrance into the world war, he was employed at the Nitro Powder Works.

The floral offerings which surrounded the casket bespoke a beautiful service of love and friendship from those he had left behind. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence V. Conlin and Mrs. James Pendergast of this city and two brothers, Thomas and William of New York city.

The casket bearers were all comrades of the deceased, most of them having fought in the same line of battle with him and saw him fall. They were William Quigley, James Scott, George Schick, John Flannery, Charles Cole and Austin Callan.

FIRE DESTROYS HICKS'S BUILDINGS

Fire which broke out about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, destroyed a large barn with contents, a granary, chicken houses with a large number of chickens, and an ice house, a piggy and a large sow, and considerable store wood, on the farm owned by Clifford Hicks in the town of Marlborough. The farm, which is known as the John Webber farm, is located along the Esopus creek where it runs at the turn of the road near the highway, and is run by Scott Sheeley, a relative of Mr. Hicks. The cows were in pasture and a number of horses were out on the fields with Mr. Sheeley and his men at the time the fire broke out. A mowing machine was also saved. Sparks set fire to the brush along the Esopus creek on both sides and a long section was burned over, the fire continuing until late in the night, the flames making a pretty sight from the highway. It was stated that there was insurance of only about $300 on the buildings and articles destroyed.

MORE THAN $191,000 TO BE SPENT ON ULSTER COUNTY ROADS THIS YEAR

Roads Suffered Greatly During Past Winter and Repairs and New Construction Are Already Under Way—Stone
Crusher Here to be Operated Full Blast.

Ulster county's share of state highway money for maintenance and repair of highways and new construction within the county amounts to about $182,000, which with the $9,821 paid by village and town taxes, will give a total of more than $191,000 which will be devoted to highway betterment in this county during the coming season.

Last winter was particularly severe on highways not only in Ulster county, but throughout the state, and repair work will be under way in all sections of the county as soon as the appointment of section foremen is announced. These appointments are expected from the state highway department daily.

A large gang of men is already at work on the Perrine's Bridge-New Paltz road, which is being reconstructed. A foundation of field stone is being placed now, and later the road will have a mixed bituminous top. The same kind of work is being done by another gang on the Hurley-Stone Ridge road.

General maintenance work also is being started on the Phoenix-Highmount road. There are two contracts for work on this road. One is held by J. F. Gallagher & Company of this city, which covers the highway from Mount Tremper to a point one mile east of Phoenicia. This contract has been in existence for some time, and if the same rate of progress is continued which has been made for the past two years the road should be completed within the lifetime of people now living.

For the stretch of highway from Mount Tremper to Cold Brook, however, the Armstrong-Trowbridge Company has a gang of men at work which will be increased within a short time.

Other roads on which work is also starting up are the river route, south of Highland; the Modena route and the stretch from Stone Ridge to Ellenville, which is greatly in need of repair.

The stone crushing plant, near Forsyth Park, which was used last year to furnish stone for highway improvement and repair, will be used again this year. On Monday a force of men will begin stripping the quarry preparatory to excavating and the crusher will be in operation within a short time.

County Maintenance Engineer Charles B. Seib has completed a thorough survey of the roads to determine the repairs needed and where it has been possible to begin work he has already placed men at work.

VOCATIONAL SURVEY SOON

General Committee Holds Preparatory Meeting—No Expense to City—Need for Start With Grammar School Pupils Felt.

The general committee appointed by the Kingston Boys Welfare Council with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce to aid the State Department of Education in making an industrial and vocational educational survey in Kingston held its first meeting Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Twenty members of the committee were present and others sent letters of hearty endorsement for the committee's work and pledged themselves for service in promoting this important object.

This meeting was in preparation for the actual carrying on of the survey which will be begun within the next two weeks and will cover about ten days.

The State Department of Education has many requests for such survey, work and Kingston was able to secure the survey within a short time after the department's acceptance of the invitation from the Kingston Board of Education on account of the general community interest evidenced by the endorsement of the Kingston Boys Welfare Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

There was general discussion at the meeting of the needs of the city and of our boys and girls for fundamental training of a nature that will enable them readily to fit into industrial and commercial life in Kingston.

Among those who joined the discussion were W. L. Smith, of the Apollo Magneto Corporation; Harry Gerhardt, of the Carpenters' Local C. H. Neer, of L. Barth & Son, Inc.; Harry Walker, Sam Bernstein, Jr., Dr. B. M. Kaplan, Dr. Frank Seelye, Rufus Kelder, C. B. Everett, Secretary Hudson of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Mary Gage-Day, Superintendent of Schools M. J. Michael, Robert J. Service, director of vocational education, and others.

The general sentiment expressed was that Kingston has made a good beginning in the successful industrial work now given in the high school; that the need for industrial and commercial education is exceedingly vital and is especially felt, owing to the lack of any industrial or commercial work of the grammar schools of the city.

It was pointed out that only about 10% of the grammar school pupils reach high school and that this kind of training should not be denied to the vast majority of our boys and girls.

It was also brought out that it is not feasible and probably not desirable to attempt too definite preparations leading to particular trades and occupations, but that the practical thing to do is to give basic fundamental training as a foundation on which the boy or girl may readily acquire specialized skill when he enters trade or industry.

The dominant thought of the meeting was that the survey which will secure accurate information with respect to the occupations open in Kingston and the opinions of employers and employees as to the basic training needed to make possible the ready acquisition of skill in these occupations, is necessary in order that Kingston may have a satisfactory program for the development of industrial and commercial education.

Such a program will be equally valuable in showing what needs to be done and also showing what is unnecessary and would be wasted effort.

The survey will be made without expense to the city and with only slight incidental expense for postage and stationery to the Boys' Welfare Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

Kind Words For Kingston Boy.

The Ontario Star says: "Owing to a recent change by which the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company has been taken from the appointive and placed in the priority class, Able Burdick, lately telegrapher in the D. & H. superintendent's office in this city has been transferred to the city office on Broad street. The change becomes effective at once. Irving Rowland, who for the past four years has been the efficient manager of the Broad street office, is as yet uncertain as to his plans, but it is believed that he will go as telegrapher to some station on the Susquehanna division. During his sojourn here his painstaking courtesy has won him many friends, who, while regretting that a series of transfers compelled the local change, will bespeak for him like success and popularity in whatever place he may be assigned." Mr. Rowland is a Kingston boy, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rowland of Spring street.

Small Gain In Factory Work.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, April 15.—New York state factories reported only a slight improvement in activity during March. The number of workers employed in all manufacturing industries of the state in March was one-half of one per cent greater than in February. March is the second month to show a gain in employment, the February increase being 2 per cent. Compared with March of last year, which was the last month before the beginning of the depression in industry, the number of factory workers shows a decrease of 24 per cent. These figures appear in the preliminary tabulation of about 1,500 manufacturers' reports received by the Bureau of Statistics of the New York State Department of Labor.

Is the World Marching to Revolution?

Is the world marching on to revolution? If it is so, then what can be done to check such a general and disastrous movement? When we look out over the field of the world there is certainly a food for serious thought. For there is political, economic and social unrest on a grand scale. In certain spots just now war is imminent and fire and powder may come together at any moment. In Great Britain, for instance, capital and labor are engaged in a struggle which will be a severe one. But there is a sure cure for the world's ills. This will be Dr. Baruch's sermon given on Sunday night in the St. James Methodist Church.

LUXURIES COST IS STAGGERING

Ten Times as Much Spent on Learning Goes For Cosmetics and Tobacco, Announces Department of Education.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 15.—Ten times as much money every year for luxuries as for education!

That is what is wrong with the educational system in the United States, according to Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who, on the eve of the assembling of the new congress under a brand new administration has deemed the time propitious to invite attention to the fact that American women spend each year almost as much for perfume, powder and cosmetics as is spent in the whole country on public instruction.

"We think we believe in education," said Dr. Claxton. "We talk much about it and many of us have believed that we pay much for it; that it in fact constitutes a very great burden. No doubt we do believe in education in a way, but we have not and do not pay much for it."

Dr. Claxton backs up his argument that we pay very little for public education with some rather startling and illuminating figures. For instance, in 1918, the last year on which figures are available, he shows that the total expended for public education in the United States was somewhat less than $1,000,000,000. Figuring on the basis of 100,000,000 population, that amounts to about $10 a head.

Two years later, according to Dr. Claxton, in 1920, American women spent on face powder, perfume and cosmetics alone the not inconsiderable sum of $750,000,000, while American men (and women, too, it is presumed) spent on cigarettes the sum of $100,000,000. For cigars there went $510,000,000 and for tobacco in other forms another $500,000,000, making in all $2,100,000,000 which went for tobacco in a single year, or more than twice the amount that was expended on education.

The American people spent half a billion for jewelry in 1920 while they were spending a billion for education, and in these dry and arid days $250,000,000 went for soft drinks.

But had as these figures may seem, worse are to come. For "luxurious services"—whatever that may mean—Americans got rid of some $3,000,000,000 last year, and for "joy rides, pleasure resorts and racing" a like amount. Even ice cream and chewing gum have not escaped Dr. Claxton's indicting calculation, and his arithmetic discloses that $250,000,000 was spent for ice cream and $50,000,000 for chewing gum.

"It is interesting," continues Dr. Claxton, "to compare some of these items with the expenditures for education. The amount paid for face powder, cosmetics and perfume is only $3,400,000 less than the total amount expended for public elementary and secondary education in 1918 and within $50,000,000 of twice the total amount of salaries paid teachers in public elementary and secondary schools.

"The amount paid for jewelry is nearly $100,000,000 more than the salaries of teachers in elementary and high schools in 1918 and is more than the total of productive funds of all endowed colleges and universities in that year.

"The $50,000,000 for chewing gum is two and a half times the total expenditures for normal schools and almost exactly the same as all state and city appropriations for higher education.

"The $300,000,000 which went for cars last year is more than twice the cost of all higher education, and the $250,000,000 paid for soft drinks is more than two and a half times as much. It is more than the total value of college and university buildings, including dormitories, in 1918.

"Suppose that in some moment of high enthusiasm and patriotic devotion the people who use tobacco had agreed among themselves to smoke two cigarettes instead of three, two cigars instead of three, and had paid to the support of the schools the money thus saved for the year, the salaries of teachers in schools of all grades, public and private, could have been increased by more than 12 per cent.

"For tobacco in various forms we paid more than we have paid for higher education since the founding of Harvard College in Massachusetts and William and Mary in Virginia."

No More Gentlemanly Lies to Protect Marcus

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXII.—MINNESOTA

MINNESOTA is formed partly from a portion of the Northwest territory and partly by the Northeast section of the Louisiana Purchase. It was the Mississippi river which was the dividing line between these two large territories.

The Eastern section was ceded by France to Great Britain in 1763 and became a part of the United States at the end of the Revolution by the Treaty of Paris in 1763. The Northwest territory was organized by congress four years later. Then, as this great federal domain became settled and was gradually divided into states, the Eastern part of the present State of Minnesota belonged in turn to the Territories of Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

As to the western portion of the state, this was a part of the Louisiana Purchase, which was bought from France by the United States in 1803. As this region became subdivided, Western Minnesota formed a part of the Territories of Louisiana, Missouri and Iowa.

The first white man to penetrate to Minnesota was the French explorer, Duluth, who in 1679 built a fort on Lake Superior and there established a very extensive fur trade. Two years later, Father Hennepin and two companions were sent by La Salle to explore the Upper Mississippi and reached the Falls of St. Anthony, where Minneapolis now stands. But it was not until the nineteenth century that permanent settlements were made.

In 1822 the first mill was built at the Falls of St. Anthony, where were destined to arise some important successions. In 1841, Father Galtier built a chapel dedicated to St. Paul, and this was the foundation of the present great city of that name.

As to the name Minnesota, the state was so called from the river that runs through it, which in the Dakota Indian language makes the words "Minnic," meaning "Water," and "Sotah," meaning "Big-colored." Sometimes the state is called the "North Star State," from the motto on its coat-of-arms.

Minnesota was admitted to the Union in 1858. Its area is 36,852 square miles and it is the most important of our wheat producing states. It has twelve presidential electors.

TOO MUCH INEXPERT "GAB"

Big corporations which are stopping the practice of sending a copy of the annual report to every stockholder have discovered that most of the recipients throw them in the waste basket without being read. The same fate is met by official reports of the Federal and state governments. The Congressional Record and millions of circulars and pamphlets issued by publicity bureaus. Some writers attribute the discarding of corporation reports by stockholders to lack of business foresight and disregard of the way in which their money is being used and managed. Similarly, lack of interest is attributed to failure to read the Congressional Record, which contains the views of leading men of every state on public questions. Every subject dealing with American life is discussed in Congress and the student of public affairs can gain much knowledge from reading the Record. The trouble with most reports, however, is they are too long, too cumbersome. The speeches in the Record are entirely too long, and what is more, most of them are not delivered. Senator So-and-so prepares a lengthy document, filled with statistics or other valuable information, but he does not speak it. If all the speeches printed in the Record were actually delivered, Congressional sessions would be interminable. They are printed at the request of the Senator or Congressman with the unanimous consent of his colleagues. Many of them are subject to the same criticism which was once passed on an elaborate historical work, of which it was said, "There are three volumes, containing many quotations, and they weigh seven pounds." Under the complex conditions of the present day, men demand a plain, brief, reliable report. They will not read page after page of detailed reports or description unless they are experts engaged in studying a particular subject. The race for a livelihood is too keen to permit it. And as a diversion they fail to furnish the interest supplied by men and women who know how to write.

CURING LEPROSY.

The news from Hawaii that science at last has leprosy in hand, if well founded, is great news. Since the dawn of history this terrible disease has claimed great numbers of men, and the only real cures reported during many centuries were those mentioned in the New Testament, the miracle work of a Divine hand. But now it is said that a genuine cure has been found and that in consequence not one of the 142 former lepers paroled from the Kalahehi hospital in the last two years has been sent back. Some slight misgiving results from the announcement that these wonderful cures were effected by employing one of the oldest of applied remedies—red-hot chaulmoogra oil, the essence of an Indian plum which has been used by lepers in the East for centuries. Why has this old remedy not been fully effective until now? The only answer to be found in the account is that modern science has discovered the bacillus of leprosy and has improved on the old methods both in the oil and in its application. If the new method is a true and permanent success, what joy it will eventually bring to millions! There are known to be at least 2,000,000 lepers, 2,000,000 in China alone, 200,000 in India and 20,000 in Japan. There are said to be only 200 in the continental United States, but there are thousands in our island possessions, the bulk of these being in the Philippines. It is to be hoped that the good work going on in Hawaii will be carried to all our island possessions, and to outside lands, including China, the chief plague spot of the world.

Samuel Gompers is quoted as saying some time ago in a speech at Hotel Astor in New York City, "The American labor movement in the only labor movement in the civilized world that today has not its hands at the throat of its government." This is undoubtedly a true statement but it serves to remind people of the fact that in recent years a small portion of the labor movement of the United States has turned to get its hands on the throat of its government. Let us forget it to wait to see what, in connection with the Gompers remark, that we were threatened with a national strike at a critical period in 1916. But the government moved the situation by suppressing, and also that in the Boston policemen's strike, conducted under the guidance of a small part of the American labor movement, the decent people of that city were subjected to the brutality of the mob. The vast majority of American labor is supporting the American government—not grabbing for its throat.

The Bureau commission on soldier relief has exhibited commendable vigor in attacking the problem and rendering a report. There is little doubt that promptness will also feature the handling of the matter by Congress and the Executive. Rapid and substantial improvement in the welfare of the ex-service men, particularly those who are disabled, should come in the summer months.

Purchasers who hope for a further lowering of prices, and are postponing their buying accordingly, may be caught in the upward swing unless they are prompt in placing their orders. The so-called "buyers' strike" is over, in the opinion of capable observers, and the increase in purchases now manifest will bring a rise in prices, and a boom in industry generally.

2. How did the trees get their names?
3. What is the tiny olive-green bird that flies about low trees and bushes in groups during our summers?

Answers to Previous Questions

1. When do male moose shed their horns, and what becomes of them? The male moose drops its horns in December, when they are fully ripened and the blood has stopped circulating through their cell-structure. They are dropped in the woods in April they begin to grow again, nourished by the blood, and are full size by summer.

2. Is there such a thing as a sea serpent, and if so in what waters is it found?

It is doubtful if the "sea serpent" as a species exists. Occasionally parts of huge skeletons are found in the sea, and start new rumors that at last the fabled serpent has been identified. These usually turn out to be part of the vertebral column of a huge whale or shark. Within a few weeks part of a bony frame was found off the Florida coast, and pictures of it reproduced in the newspapers.

3. Is there any difference between a whip-poor-will and a bull bat?

Yes, two entirely separate birds, but with enough resemblance to cause constant confusion. The "bull bat" is a night hawk. Both have mottled brown and black plumage. The night hawk has a conspicuous white bar on the wings, noticeable in flight, and a white bar across the tip of its forked tail. The whip-poor-will has no white on the wings but has the lower half of the outer tail feathers light buff or white, and a narrow white chin strap below its dark throat. Both are noisy at night.

NOW TAP AIR TO GET MUSIC

Radio Amateurs Enjoy "Concord of Sweet Music Sounds"
From 60 Miles Away.

CONCERTS A NIGHTLY AFFAIR

Development of Radio Equipment Has Brought Prices of Apparatus Down
—Wire and Screen Handle
Enough for Aerial.

New York.—Rapid development of the radio telephone has made possible for thousands of persons in New York and other parts of the country fulfillment of Longfellow's prophecy that
"the night shall be filled with music."

Enterprising amateur wireless operators, as well as many commercial stations, now put out through the air each night concerts created by attaching to sending sets phonographs and player pianos. Others, more enterprising, sing or play the violin and other instruments for the benefit of all who will "listen in."

Approximately one-half the amateurs in the New York district are licensed, permitting them to send. The others are content with receiving sets.

Receiving Apparatus Cheap.
Development of the radio equipment has been such that a practical receiving apparatus can be purchased for a very few dollars—the prices range upward in accordance with the equipment.

Great stretches of aerials are no longer necessary. A few feet of wire, looped over the end of a broom and hung out over the fire escape, and a ground wire attached to a radiator or water pipe answer. Some do not even call on the family broom, but attach a wire to the spring of a bed or a couch and excellent results follow.

On a recent evening one amateur residing in New York city heard seven concerts at one time coming from distances varying from two to 100 miles.
By means of "tuners" these concerts were easily separated so that each one stood out clear and distinct from the others as desired.

Music From Sixty Miles.

The Press club of Jackson Heights, a suburban residential district of New York, recently featured a radiophone demonstration at a meeting of the members. By the aid of a "loud speaker" the members were enabled to dance from 9 p. m. until midnight to music which came in from varying distances. In a medley dance the members of the club started with a waltz, played at Woodside, Long Island, five miles away; swung into a fox-trot, played at Brighton Beach, 15 miles distant; to a one-step, which came from Paterson, N. J., 35 miles away, then back to a fox-trot, emanating from a phonograph about sixty miles up state. At 10 o'clock all watches were set by the time signals which were sent out from the United States navy station at Arlington, Va.

So numerous have their amateurs become and so united their interests by being able to talk with each other at will that they formed an association.
They held a convention at a New York hotel. They exhibited not only their latest possessions in modern sets, but also brought with them the homemade apparatus of their pioneer days.
During the convention lectures were given and nightly concerts from distances featured.

REPORTS ON SELF-OPERATION

Philadelphia Surgeon Who Removed Own Appendix Back at Work in Two Weeks.

Philadelphia.—Evan O'Neill Kane,
sixty-year-old Jefferson Medical college graduate, who on February 15 removed his own appendix with a local anesthetic at the hospital at Kane, Pa., two weeks later performed a major operation on another patient.

Dr. Kane will not discuss his exploit other than to say "the experiment will be worth while," but his surgical assistant, Dr. D. E. Vogan, said of it:
"Dr. Kane's operation establishes three things:

- "First—Ease with which local operations can be performed.
- "Second—Can be done without severe pain.
- "Third—Pain more due to traction and rough handling of parts than to incision.
- "Fourth—Any surgeon with a fair degree of skill can perform such an operation on himself."

Dead From Tooth in His Lung.
Wilmington, Del.—James B. Broad, controller of the Duquesne company here, is dead in a local hospital from lung infection caused by a tooth which slipped down his throat during a dental operation a month ago. The presence of the tooth was discovered by X-ray. Mr. Broad had shown symptoms similar to those noted in cases of pneumonia and was being treated for possible effects of gas administered during the operation.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil: Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength.

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement. Some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the Double Strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bursae to become normal, but also relieves itching, stinging and pain.

Ask any first class druggist for an official two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and return to us, saying in its place, it is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not relieve the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they hurt and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.

THE OFFICE CAT

Work is the pursuit of Adam's craving for apples. If he had used a little judgment back there in the Garden of Eden we might all have been sitting around playing pinocle or something today. But he didn't and that's why we mortals of the present age have to buy alarm clocks.

There are many kinds of work. However, the second-story variety is the most profitable if one is a good climber. Among the other kinds are (any, degree, open (hosiery), house, and — but why go on like this when you can think of 'em just as easily as we can?

Walt Mason, the bard of Emporia, Kas., who has upset the tradition that there is no money in writing poetry, says:

Our one best bet is honest sweat.

And that's our greatest treasure.

Work is the badge of respectability and there is some consolation in the fact that our neighbors have to do it, too. Furthermore, it isn't wasn't for toil we couldn't appropriate vacations. There are many good things to be said about the subject, but we have noticed that very few men have ever bought liniment, so the proceeds—unless they used it as a transitive verb.

Thank you.

There's little left to swear off excepting taxes.

Ever notice that some of the smallest automobiles have the loudest horns?

Dolly had been praying for a long time for a baby sister.

The other morning her mother, reading the paper, exclaimed: "I see Mr. Smith has a little daughter."

"How do you know that?" asked the child.

"I read it in the paper," answered her mother.

And it is to me," said the daughter.

The mother read: "Born, on March 5th, to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, a daughter."

The child thought for a moment, then she said:

"Mummie, I know what I'm going to do. I'm going to stop praying and begin advertising."

If all people were in jail that we think ought to be, think what a tough life it would be for those of us who would have to support them by paying taxes.

"Dear me," said the worried mother, "what is baby crying for?"

"He cross with me, mother," said Dolly, "I was trying to make him smile with the glove-stretcher."

APRIL EGGS PRESERVE WELL

Water Glass Methods Recommended by Specialists—Use Only Fresh, Clean, Unwashed Supply.

Housewives who did not put down a supply of eggs in water-glass during March, still have time during April and May to look out for their next winter's needs; eggs produced during these three months are said to be the best for preserving. Only fresh, clean eggs should be put down and they must not be washed because washing removes the natural protective coating over the shell, say specialists at the state college of agriculture. One spoiled egg in a jar is likely to cause spoilage of the lot. As an added precaution, infertile eggs rather than fertile ones should be used. Water glass may be purchased in commercial solution at drug stores or grocery stores. When purchased in containers, the printed directions should be followed explicitly. The proportions recommended for preparing commercial water glass are, in general, about one quart of water glass to nine quarts of pure water. The water should be boiled and cooled before being mixed with the water glass. A clean stone jar is a good container for the eggs. Two six-gallon or three four-gallon jars will hold thirty dozen eggs. Those at the top of the jar should be covered by at least two inches of the liquid. The jar should be kept covered to prevent evaporation, and should be stored in a cool place where it will not be disturbed. According to the authorities at the state college, eggs put down in this way will keep well for a year.

It is not necessary to fill the jar with eggs at once. The water glass solution may be prepared and the fresh eggs put down a few at a time.

SALVATION ARMY WORK EXTENDED

Local Advisory Board Now Ready to Function and Specialized Welfare Service Expected to Go Far in Aiding Victims of Poverty, Vice and Destitution.

With the appointment of sub-committees, the advisory committee of the local branch of the Salvation Army has completed its organization and is ready to begin its campaign to aid the army in welfare and other work which the army has been conducting with great success in other parts of the country and in a more limited way in Kingston city and Ulster county.

Specialized welfare service is a recognized need in every community and the Salvation Army this year is trying to complete in the eastern half of the United States the program initiated last year west of the Mississippi river, where community advisory boards were formed in almost two thousand cities and towns. The number of boards so formed is some indication of the approval given to the work when the Salvation Army is best known. These advisory boards are formed of local business men and other civic leaders, and they aid the army in accomplishing its aim to assist the communities in taking care of sick and destitute women and children, neglected families, men out of employment, children and adults who are in vicious environments and other forms of poverty and destitution which are encountered in every city of the country.

In many cities, the army has been requested by civic and other authorities to take over, in large part, the welfare work of the community. The army is doing this only upon the expressed desire of a group of leading citizens of each community who have investigated the thoroughness of the army's cooperation and who have signified their willingness to serve in an advisory capacity, thus standing shoulder to shoulder with the army in handling these cases.

It has been found that with an advisory board of citizens keeping track of the pauperism, juvenile delinquency, illegitimacy, etc., of their respective communities, and then calling on the Salvation Army with its vast resources of institutions and experiences to solve the problem, the community establishes in its midst the facilities of a hundred per cent efficient associated charities without having at the same time to meet the overhead which such an arrangement ordinarily would entail. Throughout New York state there is keen interest in the army's achievements in this country and the deepest appreciation is felt everywhere of the work done by the army during the war when many phases of its activities, until then but little known by the public, became a matter of common knowledge and interest.

Frank B. Matthews is president of the Kingston Advisory Committee; William O'Reilly, vice-president; Charles J. O'Connor, treasurer; Virgil B. Van Wagoner, secretary.

Sub-committees of the advisory committee have been appointed as follows:

Finance—Sam Bernstein, Herbert Carl, John E. Mahar.

Education—Judge James Jenkins, Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., Virgil B. Van Wagoner.

Service—Judge Joseph M. Fowler, S. E. Elkhiney, Mrs. May C. Gordon, Miss M. H. Davis.

Organization—Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., Charles Snyder, Fred J. Walter.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, April 14.—Eugene Ellsworth has been putting in a gasoline tank in front of his residence, which will be a great convenience to those who have automobiles.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Heston and son, Eber of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. Bernard and daughter called on Mrs. Kathryn Sutton on Sunday.

Harry Krom and family motored to Accord and back Sunday afternoon.

KIWANIS TO GET CHARTER APRIL 21

And Plan For Big Time With Assistance of Many From Out of Town—Professor Michael In Few Words on Big Subject.

Superintendent of Schools Michael gave a short talk on his conception of the duties that go with that position to the Kiwanis Club Thursday night. It was announced that the program was nearly complete for the formal charter presentation meeting next Thursday night, probably at the Stuyvesant Hotel. The program makers promise quality and variety for everybody and will make known the nature of it in a few days. Acceptances of invitations have been received from three of the district trustees. District President Hobbs and Karl Lambert who organized the Kingston Club. The Poughkeepsie Kiwanis Club will be there in a body and also some Newburghers who want to get pointers on Kiwanis so they can start a club in their own town, ahead of them in any respect. This promises to be a large occasion in every sense of the word.

The convention of Kiwanis International will be held at Cleveland June 21. Two delegates are allowed the local club and it is expected that two will go.

Superintendent Michael, like the cow turned into the field with the big pumpkin, got around the outside of his subject some but never inside the shell, as he said, in the short time available for his talk. He began by recalling that a few years ago the superintendent of schools had no legal standing in state or community, but was solely a creature of the board of education. The law enacted in 1918, now requires one, but he is the only employee of the school system who has no contract and whose tenure of office is dependent solely on the pleasure of the board of education. He may be released at any time. This Mr. Michael considered a wise provision of the law since the superintendent has in his keeping one of the most sacred trusts in the municipal government and should be let go immediately he abuses it. Teachers cannot be removed after they have served three years without formal preference of charges and a trial.

The superintendent's first effort should be to see that he does not spend his time trying to hold his job, which not infrequently happens.

Almost inconceivable are the things which a superintendent is beset by to allow in the schools—all sorts of propagandists and faddists seek to have their theories tried out or their selfish ends furthered. Only this morning had a former teacher of considerable repute come to him with a plea that he be allowed to introduce a little propaganda in favor of the "Irish republic" where it would be absorbed by the children's immature minds. The superintendent's job is to manage the schools, to administer the school system with all that is in him morally, mentally and physically. Whatever the superintendent does must be in the interests of education, no matter what instruments he finds at hand—academic department, vocational training, private schools and tutoring—a wise executive uses them all for the establishment of character and the promotion of intelligent citizenship.

Taking up vocational training the superintendent said it was one of the most pressing needs in Kingston today, but not to the exclusion of other branches of education. He believed that it should start with the pupils who end the sixth grade and continue up through the seventh and eighth. At this time is when most children leave school and many are employed by business men. When they are found deficient the schools should not be blamed for they have missed the most important part of graded school work. Five or six years ago this was the most conservative community in respect to vocational training the superintendent had ever seen. Then the board had established it in the high school and it could now be profitably extended to the lower grades. However, every child should have the rudiments of an academic education, at least, be able to read and write, use fair English and have a working knowledge of arithmetic. Julius I. Gifford was accepted to membership in the club.

COBBLER CLOSE TO COOLIDGE

Town Shoe Repairer, "Friend, Philosopher and Guide" of Vice President.

HELPS TO SHAPE HIS CAREER

Friendship Begun in College Days Continues Through Early Struggles and Subsequent Prominence in Politics.

Northampton, Mass.—James Lucey, mender of shoes, is peering away in his shop here with one eye on the newspapers for word of how the national capital treats Calvin Coolidge, his one-time associate in local politics, and now vice president.

When Vice President Coolidge, just before departing for Washington recently, grasped the cobbler's hand as the photographers snapped their cameras, he gave him a distinction that he was asked to explain. "Put Mr. Lucey down as my guide, philosopher and friend," he said. And so the cobbler is now nationally known.

What the vice president meant was more or less well known to Northampton folk. The story goes back to the days when Calvin Coolidge was a sophomore at Amherst college. With shoes to be repaired he sought Lucey's shop on Gothic street in this city, and then remained to listen to the cobbler's homely comments on the topics of the day.

Helped to Shape Career.

The student found the shoemaker's philosophy so engaging that during the remainder of his college course he went frequently to see him. As a lawyer later young Coolidge opened offices here, and while he waited for clients, continued his acquaintance with the cobbler. Throughout his career in the politics of the city and state, Mr. Coolidge dropped in at the shoe shop from time to time to exchange ideas with his friend and have the benefit of the latter's pointed political observations.

The youthful Coolidge took away lessons from the cobbler counselor; Coolidge, the candidate, received the benefit of his influence, which was considerable in city politics, and when he rose to a position of state and national prominence he still received the loyal support of the shoe man.

Mr. Lucey, modestly explaining that Mr. Coolidge long since passed out of his range of influence, admits that he may have been of some help when the vice president was on the first rungs of the political ladder.

Current Closer Friendship.

The cobbler says that the only time he ever crossed Calvin Coolidge seemed to make firmer the friendship between them. Mr. Coolidge had sought the election of a friend as mayor, and asked Mr. Lucey as a delegate to the party caucus to stand in his behalf, but the cobbler, already bound to the opposing candidate, refused. This evidence of loyalty to a prior allegiance served to heighten their mutual respect.

The shoemaker, a native of Ireland, came to Northampton forty years ago at the age of twelve. A family of eight children, seven of whom are now living, has made demands on his earning ability. Five are girls, one is a stenographer, two are teachers, a fourth, who was formerly a teacher, is now married and one is a clerk. Of the two boys one is a graduate of Holy Cross college, and the other is a student in the Northampton Commercial college.

9,211,295 AUTOS IN COUNTRY

License Fees in 1920 Totaled $102,034,106. Reports Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Washington.—Motor cars registered in the United States last year numbered 9,211,295, an increase of 1,645,548 over the preceding year of 22 per cent, the bureau of public roads announced.

The registration and license fees amounted to $102,034,106.

In New York state alone the number of cars registered in 1920 exceeded the total registration for the United States in 1910, and the revenue derived in that state from this source was about equal to the entire registration revenues of the United States in 1913. Ninety-six per cent of the 1920 revenue was applied to road maintenance or construction.

Alice Has a Phantasm.

Tiffin, N. Y.—A phantasm duplicating the historic stunt of Mary's lamb is attracting attention here. Each day a phantasm makes its appearance east of Niagara and nears Alice Grammer, ten years of age. After a few minutes to express its joy at the meeting, the bird gravely walks with her to school. Sometimes the phantasm flies part of the way and again will perch on its little friend's shoulder and ride. The phantasm first appeared three weeks ago and, under encouragement of a few friends, has repeated the walk each day.

Ex-Admiral Sixty-Eight, Captain's Aid Thomas—With former officers of the army and navy as pupils, a school has been opened here.

Among the students is a former vice admiral, sixty-eight years old, who is enrolled as a cadet's apprentice and carries the name card.

The First Fan.

Who invented the fan? Eve, said the legend. Venus, declared the poet, Oliver Wendell Holmes, when she described one of her doves, a fan-called pigeon, of his plume. Whatever the origin, the fan has belonged to women all about.

HAS DIAMOND MINE

Only One on Western Hemisphere is Located in Arkansas.

Gems Are Found in the Crater of an Extinct Volcano in Pike County—First Found in 1906.

Murphreesboro, Ark.—The only diamond mine thus far discovered on the western hemisphere is located in Pike county, Arkansas, in which this hamlet is situated. The mine is two and a half miles south of here.

The diamonds are found in a "pipe," the crater of an extinct volcano which ages ago boiled up through the surface, had its terrific heat chilled by the water of an inland sea, and left bits of carbon scattered through the peridotite which now fills the crater, to be pressed into diamonds by the contraction of the rock. The peridotite forms the original matrix of the diamond, and thus far the only diamonds found in the western hemisphere in their matrices are those of Pike county.

Diamonds have been found in some twenty-five states in Canada and South America, but always in river beds where, geologists surmise, they have been washed by the waters, or in places where it is presumed they have been deposited by glacial action.

The first Arkansas diamond was found in 1906 by John Huddleston, then owner of the farm on which the sixty-acre "pipe" is located, by accident. Huddleston observed outcroppings of the gray-green rock, since classified as peridotite, and came to the conclusion that his hillside contained valuable mineral, perhaps copper. After pecking around without finding anything which looked to him like mineral, he picked up a crystal, and then one day, showed it to some friends in Murphreesboro. A Little Rock jeweler pronounced it a diamond, and made sure by verifications by jewel experts in New York.

The mining operations in Arkansas for several years, at least, will be far different from those of the South African fields, although the formations are the same.

In Africa deep shafts are sunk, the peridotite is brought to the surface and spread on drying floors for periods ranging from six to eighteen months. The rock has the peculiar quality of disintegrating when exposed to the air.

In Arkansas, however, except for a few places, the peridotite already has disintegrated to a depth of about twenty feet, and mixed with vegetable matter, formed a sticky clay, called "gumbo" locally. This overburden of "gumbo" will be worked before blasting operations are started.

Cheap Light.

Science and invention describes a recent achievement of a French scientist, who has successfully tried out in his own house a scheme for operating electric lights without cost. Upon his water supply pipe he has fitted a high speed water turbine, which drives a dynamo charging a storage battery. Every time a faucet is turned on in the house the stream of water is put to work at loading the battery which furnishes current for the lights. "It is simply utilizing energy that is ordinarily wasted," says the inventor.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, April 14.—The prayer meeting at G. W. Davis's on Tuesday evening was largely attended and all enjoyed it very much.

Pastor Thompson was present and gave a very profitable talk on the subject of the Talents. Wednesday evening, Mr. Thompson holds a service at the lumber camp and on Thursday at Winchell school house.

George and Frank Davis are employed at Accord, building a large barn.

We hope J. W. Kelder will recover soon from the fall he had on Tuesday.

Remember the Sunday school and league meeting next Sunday, Mrs. J. Boesner, leader.

Floyd Beesmer visited his home here over Sunday.

Miss Mabel Van Etten is recovering from the cold she brought with her from Key West, Fla.

Mrs. Don Van Etten has been suffering with a bad cold.

Kenneth Barley has the fish peddler for a boarder as well as the school teacher, Mr. Jocelyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Marshall and family of Gilboa visited relatives here the past week.

Mrs. J. H. Bayler had a pleasant call on her brother and sister, at E. Silkworth's, 350 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston, on Monday, and was pleased to find them getting along so well in such a pleasant home.

She also called on her niece, Mrs. Jennie Silkworth, at 114 Manor avenue, who is not able to walk since her fall on January 16.

Though not able to go about, she is quite cheerful to be able to read and sew and thus pass away the time, while the daughter, Gladys, is in school at New York.

Marie C. Myers is suffering with a bad cold but is improving.

Mrs. F. N. Davis is not able to go out. Sorry, we hope she will better soon.

Miss Georgianna Marshall of Gilboa has been spending some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Barringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Bayler attended the meeting at G. W. Davis's.

Terrifying Name.

The Incorporated Vermis Society is making war on the rat. It's a name calculated to strike terror to the rodent's heart and thus pass away.

SUCCESS SLOW IN COMING

Discoverer of Vulcanized Rubber Was at One Time Compelled to Beg Money for Bread.

Charles Goodyear, who became a millionaire and was the inventor of vulcanized rubber as well as many other forms of the tree sap products, at one time was forced to beg for $5 to keep him from starving. In 1834 he discovered that rubber could be vulcanized. It was an accident. He attempted to remove some bronze dust from a bit of rubber cloth, and after trying several chemicals tried aqua fortis, a chemical largely composed of sulphuric acid. It failed also, and he threw the cloth away. A few days later he picked it up by chance, and noted the spot rubbed by the aqua fortis had hardened and would stand a degree of heat that would have melted it in its former state.

He applied his discovery, and soon was wearing rubber shoes, coats, hats and other garments, and had a small fortune by the right of his discovery. But a year passed, and his goods were discredited and returned, rotting and broken. He was ruined. He started in again to discover a method that would vulcanize the rubber, and for ten years he kept at it, his life a long misery of hunger and cold and crushing poverty. His success came suddenly and soon he was rich beyond his wildest dreams.

Wonderful Poison Gases.

Canned, solidified, poison gas, which is claimed to be absolutely foolproof and mobile, has been perfected for use by the American soldier, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. That two studies—defensive and offensive gas research—go hand in hand already has been demonstrated, for, in addition to the development of new forms of gas, army experts at the Edgewood (Md.) arsenal, have had to improve the gas masks to make them effective against some of the new gases brought into existence there. In technical military progress, every new weapon means a call upon the armorer for a new defense. As a result, this country today has not only gases which surpass anything used during the World war, but a mask which, in recent tests was worn 24 hours a day for a week, except at mealtime, without any discomfort whatever. Breathing was normal, speaking was simple, and it kept out all the gases thus far known.

Women Smokers "Under Cover."

The mystery of where women cigarette smokers obtain their supply is solved, in part at least, by an up-town druggist, who was asked why nearly all such stores keep their tobacco stands in inconspicuous places, says the New York Sun. He said the reason for doing so is because the druggists cater to women smokers, and this class is rather timid about purchasing in the open. The women, it seems prefer to glide back to some out-of-the-way corner, where nobody will see them. Of course, there are exceptions.

SHE TOOK THE QUEEN'S MEAT

Culinary Expert Tells How Victoria of Great Britain Was Delightfully Deceived.

New York.—"Queen Victoria loved her mutton chops," said the queen's ex-cook, Mrs. Mary A. Wilson, at the Brooklyn food show.

"The doctors had a terrible time making her cut down the amount of meat she ate. Her chef, under the orders of the doctors, would serve her a thin slice of chop or steak and then he'd get fired. When I went to be her private chef I cooked her a great, thick chop just the way she liked it. Then I scraped the meat out of the inside and stuffed it with savory herbs.

"She was delighted with this new way of serving her chop and while she gazed on it with satisfaction and ate it with enjoyment she never realized that I had stolen half her meat."

Income Tax Four Cents; He Pays in Installments

Augusta, Ga.—A taxpayer whose total tax is 4 cents and who insists on his right to pay in four installments and who bought a 1-cent money order for which he paid 3 cents was revealed here today. The taxpayer, a tall, lanky farmer, who gave his address as Lincoln county, but whose name was not divulged, personally submitted his return to the deputy collector of internal revenue, using the 1-cent money order to pay the first installment.

The first picture made of Enrico Caruso, the noted tenor, since his serious illness. The photo was taken by Mrs. Caruso at their home in New York, where the famous musician is fast recovering his health. His physicians say he will soon be able to go outdoors, and already the tenor and his family are planning a trip to Naples in May.

Aged Indian Woman, Marysville, Wash.—Released from physical slavery among the Indian tribes of the Puget Sound country by the treaty of Mukilteo sixty-seven years ago, when she was between thirty and forty years of age, and for several years preceding her death under the care of friends at Tulalip, Mrs. Sarah Kettle, a native of the West Vancouver shore, died at the home of William Shelton at Tulalip. Her age probably was about 115 years.

Big Coon Played Bear, Falmouth, O.—Frank Rider and Frazier Tatton had a coon almost as large as a bear, and one day they decided to have a "bear" hunt. They turned the coon loose at the south border of town and after giving him a half-hour's start, they turned their pack of charging bear dogs on the trail. The dogs put the "bear" up a tree about two miles up the river. The boys shook him out of the tree and the dogs did the rest.

Sun Engine Does Good Work. The most remarkable sun engine built up to date is operated at Mend, near Cairo, in Egypt. It consists of five 205-foot boilers placed on edge and in the focus of five channel-shaped mirrors. Its best run for an hour yielded 1,442 pounds of steam at a pressure of nearly 16 pounds to the square inch—equivalent to 63 horsepower an acre of land occupied by the plant.

HAD TOUCH OF COMIC OPERA

Chinese Armies Stopped Fighting to Let United States Vessel Pass Down the River.

Ensign William H. Galbraith, navigating officer of the United States destroyer Hart, attached to the United States Asiatic squadron in Chinese waters, in a letter tells of the intensified work placed on the hands of the vessels of the squadron in the Far East by the operations of the Chinese civil war now in progress between the Pekingese and the Cantonese sections of the nation. When armies representing these hostile sections approach cities in which American citizens are in business there is much excitement on the part of the Americans and they call urgently for the protection of the fleet, says the Columbus Dispatch.

Recently the Hart received a radiogram call from an officer of a United States merchant vessel, stating that his vessel 50 miles up one of the Chinese rivers was being detained. The captain was anxious to put to sea, and would the Hart see that it was permitted to depart? The Hart got on the job at once and found when the scene was reached that there was no governmental authority holding the United States ship up, but the Cantonese army was drawn up on one side of the river and the Pekingese on the other and a battle was in progress, with the river, through which the United States ship must pass, between them. Naturally the captain did not fancy risking the shots that were passing across the channel. The respective commanders kindly suspended the fighting until the merchant vessel had passed.

No Announcement of Scientific Discovery May Today Be Looked Upon as Fantastic.

That the butterfly contains within itself what Huxley would have called the promise and potency of the cure of tuberculosis and perhaps of other malignant plagues might seem fantastic proposition were it not for our memory of its antecedent, remarks the North American Review. It is now about 55 years since Pasteur perceived in the fermentation of beer and wine the principle which emboldened him to declare that we should one day learn to eliminate all communicable diseases from the world. Biot, Dumas and other veterans of science were incredulous. But crying "Travaillez! travaillez!" the young master of them all proceeded to cure first the "sickness" of beer and wine, then the "silkworm disease," then a formidable poultry pestilence, then one of the deadliest plagues of cattle.

Having thus worked his way up in the scale of life, he addressed himself by the same methods to the salvation of man from what had been regarded as the most hopeless and horrible of diseases, rabies, and thus opened the way of Lister, of Koch, of Finlay and Carrell, and to all the unspeakably beneficent wonders of the science of bacterial therapeutics. If thus Pasteur found in an atom of yeast the cure for rabies, typhoid, cholera, malaria, yellow fever, diptheria and bubonic plague, there is no occasion for skepticism when his disciple, Metchnikow, suggests that in the larva of a butterfly may be found the cure for other pestilences.

Only Germs of Cholera and Meningitis Succumb to Smoke or Juice of Nicotine.

TObACCO USERS NOT IMMUNE

Professor Puntoni of the University of Rome has performed a series of experiments by way of determining whether tobacco, smoked or chewed, would act as a disinfectant against disease germs. For the purpose he used Tuscany cigars, Macedonian cigarettes and "very strong chewing tobacco."

He placed a piece of paper covered with a saline which contained the germs of cholera, influenza, diptheria, typhoid and meningitis in a glass jar and then filled the jar with smoke or covered the paper with tobacco juice, says New York Evening Post.

He has arrived at the depressing conclusion that, except in the case of cholera and meningitis, tobacco is powerless in the presence of germs. As to typhoid and diptheria, he exposed the bacilli to the strongest of smoke from Tuscany cigars for one hour, and they were as robust at the end of the experiment as at the beginning.

As to tuberculosis, Professor Puntoni says that the most inveterate smoker or chewer can hope for no protection from his indulgence. The elements of tobacco that disinfect in the case of cholera and meningitis are tar, nicotine and formaldehyde.

Silk Chemises for Dusky Belles.
Livid purple silk chemises, size 52, are becoming popular with the dusky belles along the African Congo, according to an announcement by a Chicago mail order house.

The firm's foreign department announced the notification of safe arrival from Chief Auxogio in the Belgian Congo of a recent order for such undergarments for 12 of the chief's favorite wives. Because of the color and size, it was necessary to have them made to order.

"The results are quite satisfactory, however," the chief wrote.

With the chemise order came funds for "shoes with watches in their toes," rubber boots with copper toes, pink silk stockings and several hundred pounds of beads and brightly-colored cotton goods.

May Discover Earth's Secret.

On the shores of Lough Neagh, in Ireland, mysterious explosions, generally occurring in warm and fine weather, have long been known as "water guns."

The most plausible theory to account for these strange noises is that they are caused by movements of rocks—settling, perhaps—deep down in the earth's crust. It has been suggested that they might be profitably studied with the help of the newly invented listening devices, by which even the smallest sounds transmitted through the ground can be heard.—Philadelphia Ledger

Hope for Us Yet.

"What do you regard as the bulwark of the nation?"

"The common sense of the plain people."

"When does it assert itself?"
"That's hard to say, but a statistician tells me 60 per cent of our population has never learned to 'shimmy.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.
